Strategic Networking for Business Development

Robert Sher will lay out a clear strategy to help you make the most of your networking efforts and get results by outlining two key elements in developing a powerful network. His concepts will help you create a personal brand and reputation and are relevant both to younger professionals and seasoned veterans.

Robert Sher is a speaker, author and consulting CEO to mid-market Chief Executives and their top teams as they navigate through critical passages. As a veteran CEO of 23 years, he has taught Entrepreneurship to Executive MBA Candidates at St. Mary's College, authored the book The Feel of the Deal; How I Built My Business Through Acquisitions, and currently serves on the Boards of Directors for the Association of Corporate Growth, and The Alliance of Chief Executives.
